

FLAVOURS OF ITALY AT THE VALLEY HOTEL

Tuesday 9 February 2010

On Friday 5 February, guests at the Valley Hotel, Fivemiletown experienced the true taste of Italy in the Bordeaux Restaurant. The event included the Executive Chef, Paul Williamson and his team preparing the finest Italian cuisine using locally sourced produce. This included seasonal Northern Irish produce from Ulster's local butchers, farmers market, and the finest hand-made cheeses from the award winning Fivemiletown creamery.

Lisa Williamson Restaurant Manager of the Valley Hotel, commented, " We were delighted to host the Italian theme night, soft lights, a warm Italian welcome from the staff, created an ambiance for the guests to enjoy a taste of Italy using locally sourced produce." Lisa went onto highlight, "As a member of the Good Food Circle our aim is to enhance the customer experience through a high standard of customer care complimented by local fresh produce on the plate, guaranteeing customers a true Flavour of Tyrone."

The Italian Gourmet Evening Menu included dishes such as Seafood Linguine, Minestrone Soup followed by a choice of Kettle's Rib Eye Steak, Wild Mushroom Ravioli, Chicken Fillet & Sundried Tomato Roulade and finishing off with a traditional Italian dessert tiramisu and fresh Italian coffee.

Colleen Lowery proprietor of Blessingbourne Estate, Fivemiletown commented, " the ambiance and good food coupled with a taste of Italian made it a night to remember. I would recommend dining at the valley hotel to anyone who simply loves good local food."

Flavour of Tyrone has awarded the hotel restaurant Bordeaux membership to their Good Food Circle, www.tyronegoodfoodcircle.com - here the emphasis is on using the best quality fresh produce for which the region is renowned. The Good Food Circle is a quality measured guide to eating out, which aims to encourage restaurants to offer high quality, reasonably priced cuisine with an emphasis on local produce.

For more details for what's on at the Valley Hotel please contact the Valley Hotel on 028 8952 1505, email info@thevalleyhotel.com and of course visit our website www.thevalleyhotel.com.

Ends

This is truly a magnificent small - contemporary family-run hotel offering excellent service - accommodation and award-winning cuisine - It is situated at the gateway to the famous Fermanagh Lakelands - a perfect base to explore many of the tourist attractions such as Marble Arch caves, Belleek Pottery and the award-winning Ulster American Folk Park.